International Conference and Projects Fair

Brussels, 15-16 November 2012

The Conference and Projects Fair is part of the implementation of the project: "Creativity in Language Learning", a project organised with the financial support of the EC Accompanying Measures Program and aimed at highlighting the effectiveness of the creative methodologies in language learning and teaching and at selecting the relevant best practices in this field. The project aims to give an opportunity to the chosen educational projects to be disseminated in an international context. It is important to underline that the experts, coming from different countries, will demonstrate how creative approaches can work effectively in different languages and thus how creativity is absolutely pivotal and consistent with the aims of multilingualism.

Our conference

- ◆ will offer presentations and workshops of the best creative practices in language teaching/learning;
- ◆ will provide an international platform for planning future practical steps for the dissemination of these practices and for addressing stakeholders and representatives of the project target groups from the European countries;
- ◆ will gather project coordinators of EU funded and non-funded project for a mutual exchange of expertise and innovative methodologies in language teaching/learning;
- ◆ will host the interventions of two European Commission and EACEA officers who will provide you with interesting insights about the new programme LLP and about the role of the multilingualism in the new political framework;
- ◆ will give you the possibility of networking with several professionals in creative language learning from all Europe.
